POST TIMELY INFORMATION ON YOUR WEB SITE

Announcement Database $600

pxAnnouncements equips your Web site with the ability to display notices, statements and announcements from your company or organization. pxAnnouncements enables a designated administrator(s) from your company to add, delete and edit announcements. Editable fields include title, expiration date and summary. The system also gives you the ability to feature an announcement on your home page. The announcements will automatically expire on the expiration date so you don't have to manually remove the announcements. It's a worry free announcement system.
